

This summer keep track with reading logs, or “bubble sheets”, that are designed for each age group. Each bubble represents 5 minutes of reading. This can be done on their own or read to them. Don’t forget to count magazines and graphic novels! Once finished filling out a at your local PIDL Branch for small prizes and an entry into the grand prizes at the end of the summer!

Pick up a 2021 Kick Off Bag from any PIDL Branch, return your registration form, and get these kids reading!!!

Check our Facebook page, our website and our SRP brochure for summer reading events, story times and lightening rounds for extra entries into the grand prizes!

Summer Reading Program 2021 Presents
Sloan Museum and Longway Planetarium

WORM MOTELS

Who says worms can’t relax in a cozy motel?! Explore a worm’s world by building a temporary worm habitat and learning all about the needs of living things.

Held on Wednesday, July 14th @ The Rogers City Theater.
Doors open at 1:30, starting time is at 2PM and will be 1 hour.
Concessions will be open.

25 children per session – please sign up at your local branch.

Ages 4 and up

Admission is FREE

Summer Reading Program 2021 Presents
Dynamic West Assemblies

Animal Tales

Talking animals are a common theme in mythology, folktales, and children’s literature. Fictional talking animals often are anthropomorphic, possessing human-like qualities.

This program will feature a variety of live mammals, reptiles, and birds to provide a fascinating and unforgettable show. Their LIVE ANIMAL presentations typically draw the largest crowds of the summer for the library summer reading programs.

Held on Wednesday, June 16th @ The Rogers City Theater.
Doors open at 1:30, starting time is at 2PM and will be 1 hour.
Concessions will be open.

Everyone is welcome

Admission is FREE

Funding provided by

Summer Reading Program 2021 Presents
S3Arts (Spencer Scharf Studio Arts)

Next Level
Hidden Rock Painting

The family fun of hidden rock painting! Participants will choose from a variety of pre-cleaned and primed rocks along with a rainbow of acrylic paints and more to design their own. Miniature painting techniques will be taught to bring the rocks to the next level. After painting, the rocks will be sealed with a protective clear coat outdoors (weather permitting). Once dry they will be ready to be hidden and found!

Held on Wednesday, July 28th @ The Rogers City Theater.
Doors open at 1:30, starting time is at 2PM and will be 1 hour.
Concessions will be open.

25 children per session – please sign up at your local branch.
Ages 2 and up Admission is FREE

Funding provided by

