Trades of Hope: Empowering Women Out of Poverty

Due to extreme poverty, mothers are giving their babies to orphanages. Millions of women are trafficked each day in the U.S. and globally. What if we told you, you could help artisans by purchasing their fair trade goods and providing sustainable jobs? Your purchase create demand, which enables them to make a steady income. Join Alison Lamb, Trades of Hope partner, and hear how you can make a difference empowering women. She will explain how purchasing ethically-made lines of home accessories, jewelry, coffee and more, gives women a respectable way to feed, clothe, house and educate their children. Riconda Lamb is hosting a dessert and learn Monday, February 28, in St. John's fellowship hall. (Handicapped accessible.) Call 989-657-5168 for more info. Door prizes, cash and carry items will be available that day.

Come Quilt or Iron

Quilters meet on the first and third Thursdays each month at 9:00am. You don't need to sew to be a help. Other important tasks are needed, too. The quilters can always use some ironing volunteers to iron the quilt tops and backs. Ironing can be done at home or in the church.
